Dear readers;

Our journal is presently known as Future Natural Products, previously Advanced Herbal Medicine (2015-2021). Journal of Future Natural Products, Trendy, is the same old journal that was retitled in 2021 by the editorial board and intended to be published in the succeeding areas more energetically than before. With the assistance of academics, we hope this new scientific field will become an appropriate field for this journal's growth in various indexes. It can also make the site more visible and view more articles in this magazine with high visibility.

Future Natural Products is an international, free of charge, peer-reviewed, and open-access journal devoted to publishing original research articles, review articles, meta-analyses, editorials, letters to editors, and brief communications in the field of "Future Natural Products" involving both basic and clinical research. The journal has a distinguished editorial board with extensive academic qualifications, ensuring that it maintains high scientific standards and has broad international coverage.

Manuscripts of medicinal plant and natural products research publish in Future Natural Products provide current information in the following scope areas; Phytopharmacology, ethnobotany, ethnopharmacology, phytotherapy (clinical trials and animal studies of herbs and natural products in medicine), toxicology, and safety aspects of herbal medicines and natural products like herb-drug-food interactions, modeling and simulating in biomedical informatics of natural compounds, molecular and cellular approaches in biology, pharmacognosy. Also, it focuses on antimicrobial herbal medicine, natural compounds, agricultural, phytochemical, structure elucidation of herbals, quality control or botanical identification of herbals, network pharmacology of natural compounds, and molecular phytopharmacology, chemistry and biosynthesis of natural compounds.

Future Natural Products is entering an exciting period when high ethical standards, visibility, and impact are all important to authors. I am honored to be chairing the board of Future Natural Products which has already initiated an open-access publishing model for the advantage of authors and readers. We are here for everyone who wants to publish quality natural compounds and medicinal herbs research and share it with the world. We are here for everyone who needs access to work in every area of the natural products sciences and related disciplines. We make sure the world knows it through our journal.
